The celebration of public Mass was suspended in all Catholic Churches on 20th March, and St Aidan's is now closed until further notice. Following the updated guidance from the government on 23rd March, the church will no longer be open for private prayer. To read the full announcements, please check the 'newsletter' section of the website. Fr Ken will continue to celebrate Mass privately, and the Mass intentions for next week are listed below. Please do not attempt to attend these services.

Please use the telephone if you would like to speak to Fr Ken. Do not turn up at the Presbytery. The office will remain closed until further notice, but Louise will be working remotely and will try to check and respond to emails daily.

To keep the number of emails we send to a minimum, we will be updating the 'latest news' section of our website as frequently as is necessary, so we would encourage you to check this several times a week, in addition to reading the newsletter online.

Are you elderly, or in a household which is isolating due to a chronic condition or current illness? Do you need help with delivery of groceries or other essential supplies while you are unable to go out? If so, please email the office or call Fr Ken. There are parishioners ready to help you. By giving your details you are consenting to us passing your details on to those who can help. Full details of our GDPR policy can be found on the diocesan website.

Envelopes

As the church is closed until further notice we will not be issuing the new set of offertory envelopes. If you would like more information about switching to standing order please email Louise.
